After the accident, a car from the hospital took Krishna to hospital. The two men carried him to a bed and put him in it carefully. Soon a nurse and a doctor came. The nurse wrote his name and address in a book. The doctor took the bandage off Krishna's arm, looked at it carefully and put his hands on it. He said, "The arm is broken." He said to the nurse, "Give him some tea to drink." Then he said to Krishna, "Do not worry, we will do something just now. You will be alright soon!" Krishna was a little cheered up and said "Thank you, doctor." The nurse gave him tea to drink and covered him with a warm cloth. The doctor gave him an injection to lessen his pain.
